FIFTEEN CENTS

S Albert Kaufman to talk with Federal Energy Administration

News isn't always a matter of sensation, nor is it the latest something which has just occurred. Sometimes it is just a small story about an acquaintance, not too well known, but whom the reader recognizes as a nice guy who lives somewhere over on the other side of the hill. It makes the reader feel good.

For the past fifty years the annual Memorial Day Services in Wilmington have had, as part of the program, a Prayer for the Dead, in Hebrew. The prayer was performed by S. Albert Kaufman, of Bridge Street, Tewksbury. Many will remember him, an elderly gentleman, tall and erect.

Mr. Kaufman has a date, next week, with officials of the Federal Energy Office (FEA) in Boston. That agency, in the past year, has become of national importance, and it wants to know about Mr. Kaufman's ideas of generating electricity from the turbulence in the water - water flowing in a river, for instance. Kaufman will appear before a board of experts, in Boston, sometime during the week of August 26th to explain his ideas.

The program that Mr. Kaufman is to present is called LATE - an acronym for "Latent Aqua Turbulency Energy."

The Federal Energy Administration contacted the Town Crier two weeks ago, and asked for aid in finding "an elderly gentleman who lives in Tewksbury." A story in the Tewksbury edition of this paper produced a reader who recognized the description as being that of S. Albert Kaufman.

Kaufman had talked with the Federal Energy Administration about his ideas of generating electricity. At that time there were no funds available. Now there is money, and the ideas of S. Albert Kaufman are to be explored, and maybe developed.

The concept
Basically, Kaufman believes that, with a little money, he can come up with two specially designed machines which will generate electricity from the surge of water, and a third machine which will generate electricity from the turbulence.

The surge of water is its forward motion. Turbulent water is water which is being stirred up, perhaps because it is flowing over rocks, or something else.

Kaufman says he is having models made of all three machines and he will show them to the FEA. His only motive, he says, in seeking a grant, is to help his country, in its energy needs.

Wants no profit
"I am well taken care of," he says. "I don't want any money for myself. The only thing is that I don't have any loose cash hanging around, to develop this. That's why I am glad they came looking for me."

Kaufman told the Town Crier that he came up with the concept partly after giving much thought to the way the Shawhees River flows by his home, in Tewksbury, and partly from a speech by President Nixon, the former president, on television.

"He was presenting a medal to a prominent scientist. When he finished he asked that men of science help to relieve the country's enslavement to oil producing countries."

"I had been thinking about the river for a long time, but nothing along the lines of the idea I began to think of after I heard the President's speech."

Even if Kaufman hadn't come up with the new concept, he would be an interesting person.

Born in Marioupol, Russia, he came to the United States when he was two years old. He was descended from a long line of bat-villages, men capable of chanting Jewish services, but who aren't trained for the task formally such as cantors are.

After residing in Boston for a while, the family moved to Malden, where Kaufman was graduated from Malden High School in 1915 and was a member of the LIT (Literature) Society.

Is MIT graduate
In 1919 he earned his bachelor of science degree in chemical engineering at MIT. "In those days things weren't so specialized, so I had courses in most types of engineering," he explained.

Upon graduation, he became a civil engineer and surveyor, and still works in those fields today, 55 years later. He has worked on major projects such as schools and parking garages throughout the state, and was consulting engineer for Tewksbury for many years.

When he was 45 years old, he was drafted into the Army, where he served in 1942 and 1943. Shortly after he was honorably discharged from the service, he married the former Rose Levine, who is descended from a line of rabbis. Shortly after that, they moved to their present address in Tewksbury.

Prominent in religion

Over the years, he served as master of the Germania Lodge of Masons in Boston, and was president of Congregation Ahavath Achim, today's Temple Shalom, which serves Jewish residents of Tewksbury and Wilmington.

Kaufman keeps his mind active through his surveying and engineering work. "Each survey is a different problem to solve. There is no fixed way of doing a survey, and you have to design a new system for developing each survey," he explained.

Wile other men of his age may be sitting around in wheelchairs, S. Albert Kaufman may soon be working on a project which may one day be improving the quality of life for his fellow Americans.

He keeps in remarkably good physical condition by exercising for 15 minutes a day, riding a bicycle and keeping outdoors at his work as much as possible, climbing fences and hills regularly. He also eats only two meals a day, and eats nothing but Kosher food.

Compugraphic reports highest sales in 14 years

With all the gloomy economic forecasts on the horizon, both nationally and statewide, one company, Wilmington's Compugraphic Corporation continues to stand out as one of the few refreshing exceptions in business and industry.

During one of the most uncertain and chaotic fiscal periods in our country's history, Compugraphic, the world leader in computerized phototypesetting equipment, is registering record-breaking figures across a wide range of important corporate yardsticks: sales, earnings, promotions; and now size and hiring.

The quarter ending June 30, 1974, reported the highest sales and earnings in Compugraphic's 14 year history. Net sales totaled $16,679,000 for the period, a 40% increase over the $11,880,000 in the same period of fiscal 1973.

Last year alone, the company promoted nearly 2/3 of its employees. This year Compugraphic is building an additional 100,000 square feet of working space to accommodate future growth and a larger work force at its flourishing Wilmington working headquarters.

It's a good sign for Massachusetts, in terms of economy and spirit. With talk of layoffs and cutbacks, corporate relocations and recession, the state and its people can certainly use a ray of optimism.

Questions on Cable TV

The town of Wilmington is not attractive to persons who want to operate a Cable TV for profit. That is the gist of what the Wilmington selectmen were told, a week ago, by the Woburn firm of Colonial TV, which has a non-exclusive franchise to serve the homes of Wilmington.

The financial backers of the Richard Duggan and Rodney Laughlin.

George Duffy of Colonial TV told the selectmen that, hopefully, Colonial TV will spend $20 thousand to make a new approach to Wilmington this year, from the Town of Billerica, and then, hopefully, another $20 thousand next year. He said several times that the financial backers were not interested.

Coming in from Billerica, they hope to service the Silver Lake area, and hopefully get over 80 patrons per mile. It will take $2.5 miles of cable to service the entire town they said, and this meant that they had to "cut off the tails" - i.e. put in only the minimum cable necessary to service any area.

Wilmington Water Supply Further restrictions may be required

Wilmington home owners are being asked, by the Wilmington Water Department, to water lawns only every other day. This is the only restriction that has been placed on Wilmington water users - people who had odd street numbers use their sprinklers only on odd days, and people who have even street numbers do their watering only on even days.

But the situation is tight. There may be more restrictions, in the next few days or so.

It has been a summer without rain. On the first of August the rainfall in Wilmington, according to Water Department records, was 7.84 inches, less than it had been one year ago. Since then there has been only .49 inches of rain - last Saturday having had .18 inches.

Nearby towns and cities are nearly in a catastrophic stage. In Wilmington it is "tight."

A few months ago the Chestnut Street, Town Park, Butters Row and Aldrich Road well fields were shut down, because of iron ore, or manganese in the water, in the case of Chestnut Street, bacteria.

The water pumps are working at full speed, every day to 11 pm. Nearly every day there is pumped 3 1/2 gallons of water, and on more than a few there are over 4 million pumped.

The ground water level is still reasonably good, in Wilmington, but it is dropping.

And a Nodding Trillium 48 varieties of ferns

Four employees of Photon had a sort of unparalleled adventure last week - a walk through the Wilmington Town Park with Frank Tuttle of Carson Avenue.

Mr. Tuttle is a naturalist of some note, president of the Audubon organization at the Ipswich River preserve, a Boy Scout official, and the unofficial owner of the Wilmington Town Forest. He has, among other things, identified every species of fern in the Town Forest. There are a total of 48 different ferns there.

Linda Thompson, Werner Daigneault, Dave Weiss and Kazushi Abe spent a couple of hours in the Town Park with Mr. Tuttle. It was an educational experience, both in numbers of plants seen and in the proliferation of growths of poison ivy and poison oak.

IN THE OLD CANAL, Frank Tuttle, left, with a species of fern in his hand. Others are Linda Thompson, Kazushi Abe, Werner Daigneault and Dave Weiss, all Photon employees.

Mr. Abe, it might be noted is of Japanese origin, having been born in Hokkaido, the northernmost of the four main islands of that country, but he calls Tokyo his home city.

He has a nickname, of course, and it is the good old name of Casey, which comes quite naturally from his last name.

Tuttle took the group for quite a tour, a hike which studied the old Middlesex Canal and variety after variety of fern, with other plants included from time to time.

THE OLD CANAL ROCK: A rock which stood by the old Middlesex Canal and which has a number of cuts, made by the tow ropes of the old canal barges, is examined by Dave Weiss.

Tennis club plans annual tournament

The Wilmington Tennis Club will stage its 1974 Annual Tournament for club members at the Avco Courts beginning with singles competition on Saturday, September 7th, and doubles matches on Sunday, September 8th.

Tournament play will include five events: men's singles, women's singles, men's doubles, women's doubles and mixed doubles play. All members interested in entering tournament play may register by contacting the following tournament committee members no later than Tuesday, August 27th.

For a list of names, last names A to L, Diane Ryan, 658-2978 or Ray Berger, 658-5563; last names M to Z, Cathy Murphy, 657-7582 or Dave Webster, 658-3813. When making your call to register, indicate which events you wish to enter.

All calls for participation in the annual tournament must be received no later than Tuesday, August 27th in order to allow the committee time to prepare drawings and match schedules for the start of tournament play.

All tournament matches will be scheduled on weekends (Saturday and Sunday), with an assigned starting time for all matches. There will be no tournament play during the week, except in the event of rain on the weekend.

I would like, through you to thank the instructors at the Glen Road Playground who are completing their third consecutive year, namely Ron Colbert, Joan Bellissimo and Ralph Peterson.

It was great for the youngsters because they were reunited with their friends who instructed them two previous summers.

The daily activities and numerous field trips made an exciting summer for all those attending.

Sincerely,
Mrs. T. Driscoll

Town Engineer reports
Carter Lane taking has been filed

A few weeks ago cars were parked on Carter Lane, by Rob Jordan, a man who has his home there, near the West Intermediate School of Wilmington. Mr. Jordan was stopping through traffic. He is of the opinion that Carter Lane is his, and that the town has never completed a "taking" of the road.

The contrary is the case, according to a report which has been given to the Wilmington Planning Board.

According to Rob Higgins, Town Engineer, in a report to the Planning Board, the Town Council has told him that a taking has been filed, in court, for Carter Lane.

The report was made on August 13th.

The Planning Board voted for a street construction bond of $50,000 for the Lucyna Estates real estate development off Park Street. The area being bonded is only one third of the project.

A $32,000 bond was voted for the new housing development off Kilmarnock Road, owned by Paul Butt.

Richard Stuart of Shawheen

Avenue, who has appeared before the Planning Board on more than a few occasions because of four or five lawsuits off King Street was told by the board that the plan he is submitting does require approval.

That phrase, in the planning board lexicon, means that it expects that plans will be submitted for a regular subdivision, and that no plans will be signed that have not gone through subdivision procedures.

GAIL IRWIN TO ATTEND
KATHARINE GIBBS

Gail Susan Irwin of Nine Glendale Circle, Wilmington has enrolled at the Katharine Gibbs School in Boston for the one-year secretarial program.

Miss Irwin, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William K. Irwin is a graduate of Wilmington High School.

CARD OF THANKS

To the Wilmington Fire Department, especially Ed, Walter and Tommy, for their speedy and excellent service; all my friends, for their personal calls, cards and well-wishes. It all helped to make my return home that much sooner.

A North Wilmington Town Forest

The missing ingredient of next Monday's special town meeting is an article calling for the creation of a North Wilmington Town Forest. Professor Charles Eliot, consultant to the Planning Board has recommended that there be one created of land in the northern (and highest) part of Wilmington. The Planning Board has in turn recommended this to the Selectmen.

Admittedly it was difficult to prepare an article which would have been right in all legal and technical details, in time for the Monday Town Meeting. There is, now, however, time to prepare such an article for the next special town meeting, and have it ready for use.

Part, at least, of the land recommended for a town forest by Professor Eliot is being eyed in a speculative manner for either housing or gravel operations, and therein lies the rub. There are officials who know of those speculative thoughts, and who want to preserve land for the future, one of them being Selectman Giljis. The Town Crier mentions because it has found it difficult to accurately report that gentleman in recent weeks, when he was speaking of those speculative things, but he is concerned.

And he is not the only one.

A North Wilmington Town Forest could solve a number of problems, and easily. It would not be confiscatory in nature, such as was the Flood Plain Zoning, for the land would be taken by eminent domain, and the owners duly paid. As such it can get the whole hearted approval of this column.

It would be well for the town to act as soon as possible. To delay is to increase the risk of losing a Town Forest in an area that is eminently suitable for such.

The Rezoning Article

Elsewhere on this page is a sketch of the northern part of Wilmington, showing with diagonal lines the area that is proposed to be rezoned, under Article 7 in Monday's Town meeting.

The Sons of Italy own the two northernmost lots in the area, and that organization proposes to build itself a clubhouse there. There are several observations that can be made.

The main one is that other fraternal and social organizations in Wilmington, being in residential areas, have had from time to time difficulties with neighbors. This the Sons of Italy seems to be avoiding, if it is constructed in an industrial area.

In the Finance Committee hearing it was stated that the reason for rezoning the entire area was to avoid "spot zoning," which is a nasty word in the language of some voters.

This column favors the rezoning for exactly the same reason that Bill MacKinnon avored the purchase of 100 acres for a new high school, northerly of Salem Street, not too long ago.

Mr. MacKinnon, who was at that time on the Planning Board, favored the purchase of the land, not that he wanted the new High School, but that he believed the tax payers could save money by taking the land "out of circulation" from real estate speculators and professional home builders. It was, to his way of thinking, a way to help keep the tax rate down.

It is quite well recognized that more residential subdivisions means more homes. More homes means more children to educate. More children to educate means more schools, which in turn means higher taxes.

That was the basis of Mr. MacKinnon's philosophy and vote.

The reader may well wish to apply the same philosophy and vote to the proposed industrial zoning, easterly of Ballardvale Street.

A sketch showing proposal for Rezoning in North Wilmington

A SKETCH, SHOWING PROPOSAL TO REZONE LAND TO INDUSTRIAL, under Article 7 of the Warrant for next Monday's Town Meeting. All the land shown on this sketch is between Andover Street and Ballardvale Street, Wilmington. The area proposed to be rezoned is marked with diagonal lines. The Wilmington edge of the Sons of Italy owns the two northernmost lots of land.

For purposes of information other lots are shown. That lot labeled Article 10 is the land which was discussed under that article in the Annual Town Meeting. Adjacent to it is the Brooks lot, which is twenty acres in area. Some of the land proposed to be in the North Wilmington Town Forest, by Professor Eliot, includes these two lots, the Camp Forty Acres land, and the lot of land marked Dick.

Teens are specialty of new health service

A "first of its kind" health service in the Greater Lowell area, designed exclusively for adolescents, is currently underway at St. John's Hospital in Lowell.

The pilot project, funded in part by the hospital, the Office for Children and the teenage patients themselves or their parents, is known as the Teen Health Service. It is geared to provide ambulatory care in the areas of prevention, early detection and treatment of disease, and health education.

The new service is not a drop-in with the possibility of morning appointments in September. Dr. Stephen Wilover, board-certified pediatrician with a special interest in adolescence, is medical coordinator. He is assisted by Mrs. Molly Billingsley, R.N., a pediatric nurse practitioner with clinic experience and an M.S. degree in child guidance. Volunteer clerical, nursing and counseling personnel include several of the Sisters of St. Martha and Mrs. Patricia Conefrey, coordinator of the hospital's pediatric and adolescent unit. Appointments are made through the hospital switchboard.

Dr. Wilover hastened to point out the Teen Health Service will supplement, not duplicate, other health and social services in the Greater Lowell area. "It is our goal to help guide the teenager to make mature responsible judgments in the area of his health, school and social setting. We offer not only physical, mental and social support but also emotional support to the teenager. Many times we refer our patients to specialists," he said.

"Some of these problems are well-documented in other areas of the country, and there is no reason to believe that they are not the same here in Lowell. They are related to obesity, acne, improper nutrition, menstrual disorders, sexual adjustments, venereal disease as well as vague abdominal and chest pain, hearing and sight problems and just plain headaches," Sister Teresina said.

An example of the need for the development of an ambulatory adolescent program is apparent from statistics in St. John's Emergency Room. During April over 500 teenagers were treated, with only one out of five indicating that he or she had a family physician. Many times medical help is sought only when illness is severe. This is true of adults as well as teenagers. Presumably, there are many unmet health needs of a non-emergency nature in the Greater Lowell area.

After a year of planning, the Teen Health Service was given official go-ahead by the hospital's governing board. The program became operational in June. The clinic is held two evenings a week

Spotlighters begin new season tonight

The Wilmington Spotlighters will begin their new season tonight (August 22) with try-outs for their dinner theater production of "Black Comedy" by Peter Shaffer scheduled for November 2nd at Casa di Fior.

Actually, August 20th at 7:30 at the American Legion Hall. Should anyone be unable to make either, or have any questions about the play, he or she may call Mrs. Henney at 657-7533.

Rehearsals are scheduled to begin right after Labor Day and will be held three times a week. Specific dates and times will be announced.

The cast will be composed of five men and three women. The plot of this action packed comedy revolves around an up-and-coming young sculptor who is trying to make his first big sale to impress his future father-in-law. The conflict and comedy unfold when the father-in-law, neighbors, fiancée, and ex-girlfriend all converge on the sculptor's apartment.

The Spotlighters are also lining up production crews for the November 2nd presentation; help is needed in every area. People having any talent in any of the production areas are urged to contact Mrs. Henney or Ann Whitney, membership chairman (658-3440).

JOHN K. BURNHAM COMPLETES COURSE

Navy Lieutenant Commander John K. Burnham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Burnham, 21 Birchwood Rd., Wilmington has completed the Defense International Logistics Management course at the Army Logistics Management Center, Fort Lee, Virginia.

The course is designed to assist department defense personnel in planning, programming and implementing international logistics activities.

FR. CHARBONNEAU IS TRANSFERRED

The Rev. Roger Charbonneau, formerly of St. Dorothy's Church has been at St. Anthony's Church in Burlington, Vermont for the past year or so, but is now being transferred.

He will still be in Burlington, Vermont, but will be at the Cathedral Parish Center, 91 Pearl Street, Burlington, Vt. 05401.

Lorraine Jones will be Cowin campaign coordinator

William I. Cowin, Republican candidate for Attorney General, has named Lorraine Jones, of 16 Aldrich Road, Wilmington, as his Wilmington campaign coordinator. Mrs. Jones is a member of the Republican Town Committee.

Cowin stated, "I am delighted to have Lorraine Jones helping me in Wilmington. She is a fine asset to my campaign and I am confident that with her help, I will carry Wilmington, not only in the Primary, but in the General election as well."

Cowin, who is running for elective office for the first time, was endorsed by acclamation of the Republican State Convention on June 1.

His eleven years in top government positions include four years as an Assistant Attorney General, where he headed the top division in the office and argued a precedent setting case before the United States Supreme Court when he was only 17. Cowin, who is 38, has also served as Chairman of the Department of Public Utilities, the Commonwealth's first Secretary of Consumer Affairs, and Secretary of Administration and Finance.

Sharon Foley is Bride

On Saturday, July 27th, Sharon R. Foley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Foley of 18 Parker St., Wilmington became the bride of Sidney A. Tildley, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Tildley of 36 Andover Street, Wilmington.

The altar of St. Thomas Church, before which Father Francis Mackin performed, the 11 am ceremony, was adorned with pink and blue carnations. Tania Morrice, a cousin of the bride enhanced the ceremony with her rendition of "Sunrise-Sunset", "The Lord's Prayer" and "Ave Maria."

Given in marriage by her father the bride was radiant in a full length of white imported organza featuring lantern sleeves and high illusion neckline. Chantilly lace trimmed the bodice and skirt which flowed softly from the empire waist. She wore a cathedral length mantilla and carried a bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Jean April, a close friend of the bride served as matron of honor in a full length pink floral gown with matching jacket.

Cathy Hughson, a cousin of the bride and Susan Landers, Jean Foley, Janet Liborucki and Jan Saulnier, all close friends of the bride served as bridesmaids. They were attired in blue floral sleeveless gowns featuring matching jackets.

Donna Foley, sister of the bride served as flower girl in an all pink gown made for her by her aunt, Jean Hughson.

James Tildley served his brother as best man while ushering duties were in charge of Marty Tildley, also a brother of the groom; Mark Foley and Dennis Foley, brothers of the bride; and Ken Barron, Mike Curran, Robert Stewart and Harry Latta, close friends of the groom.

Francis O'Kane, cousin of the bride acted as ring bearer.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the Tewksbury-Wilmington Elks Hall where Bette Smith circulated the guest book attired in a full

Interviews for new principal to begin soon

The Wilmington School Committee will shortly be interviewing candidates for the position of principal of Wilmington High School. Assistant Superintendent of Schools Derek Little, last Thursday, stated that the initial list of candidates, which had been as high as 45, has been pared down to nine.

The first three candidates to be interviewed will be persons already in the Wilmington public schools. After that six out of town candidates will be interviewed.

The former principal, Bernard McMahon (and still acting principal) has been named to the new position of Administrator of non-instructional personnel. Mr. McMahon will continue in his present post until a successor has been named.

The School Committee, in its meeting last Thursday, completed its negotiations with the School Nurses. A two year contract includes a nine per cent pay increase for the first year, and an eight per cent increase for the second.

Sick time can now accrue up to 120 days. In the previous contract the limit was 100 days. There will be an allowance of two "personal" days a year. There will also be a grievance procedure, to take care of disputes involving interpretation of personal days.

The try-square is used as a guide for marking straight lines across small pieces of lumber.

You can also use it to check edges and ends to see if they are straight, and to find out whether ends are true with adjoining edges.

The try-square is composed of a thin steel blade set at right angles into a wood or iron stock. The blade is graduated in inches and fractions of an inch, and may vary in length from two to twelve inches.

It's a very convenient tool for accuracy.

When you need guidance as well as a supply for your building and remodeling projects be sure to call on us at SWEETEE HOME COUNTRY CENTER, 615 Main St., Wilmington, 01897. Our new display of Amerock hardware includes the "Bonaventure," "Carriage House," and the "Monterey" collections.

Helpful Hint
An adjustable try-square can mark off a 45 degree angle, as well as a 90 degree angle.

WILMINGTON SOFTBALL LEAGUE

Thurs. Aug. 15: Big W eliminated Stepan from the playoffs as they jumped out to a 13-1 lead after three innings and then coasted to a 13-5 victory. Bill Mutchler hurled the win for Big W, while Paul went the full distance on the mound for the losers. Heaver O'Connell (single, triple, five rbi's) and Chuck Kennedy (single, double, and three rbi's) paced the car company to victory while Albie Palma had a single and two triples for Stepan.

Dick Elliot turned in his top pitching performance of the year hurling a one-hitter and allowing one base runner as Jay-Dee bounced Smithcraft from the playoffs, 3-1. Paul was the mound victim for Smithcraft. Bill Swan had the lone hit for Smithcraft as he banged a triple in the second inning and scored on a sacrifice groundout.

Last call for one-pitch tourney

This is the last call for teams interested in entering the third annual one-pitch tournament. The teams will meet Thursday, August 22 at Jack Cushing's field at 3 Ring Avenue, Wilmington. The entrance fee is $25.00 per team and all proceeds will benefit the Jim Ward Scholarship Fund.

The tourney will begin Sunday, August 25 at 2:00 pm and finals will be on Thursday, August 29 at 8:30 pm with the preliminary game at 7:30 being State Troopers (Andover Barracks) vs Wilmington Police.

The tournament is open to any team, rosters are open, nine inning games with each batter being allowed only one pitch (Ball-walk, strike or foul-out).

WILMINGTON RECREATION TIDBITS

Ann Hamilton, Eric Sunnenburg star in Drama Festival

Over 500 children and parents witnessed the Wilmington Recreation Department's first Annual Mardis Gras and Drama Festival at the North Intermediate School, Wednesday evening, August 14. Nearly 300 youngsters dressed in various costumes and were awarded prizes at the playgrounds this week.

Approximately 140 children took part in the Drama Festival and entertained the audience with skits, impressions, songs and dance, comedy, etc. Gary LaPierre, WBZ radio veteran newsman, and Wilmington's Ken Wilson, organist acted as judges and presented the following prizes:

1. Ann Hamilton, impression of Chere (North) Gay Smith, dance and song routine.

2. Eric Sunnenburg skits, lion and mouse and Boy Who Cried Wolf (Glen Rd.) plus Mary Jane Colbert and Glen Rd. Helpers.

3. Greatest Show on Earth - North - 19 children.

In charge of the Mardis Gras and Drama Festival were:

Ron Swasey, Recreation Director; Jim Gillis, Playground Supervisor; Kevin Field, Drama Director.

The surprise of the evening was a beauty contest in which the following playground leaders displayed their talents: Jim Tildale, Joe Lunetta, Tom Beaton, Bob Conlin, Ray Dudley, Pat Simmons, Ralph Peterson, and Jack Virtus.

Playgrounds:

Wildwood
As the blistering heat of summer sizzled, youngsters and leaders, the Wildwood Yellow Submarines continued their enthusiastic attendance in our next to last week of fun. Monday was sparked by a farewell party for our departing aide, Beverly Witham. A yummy cake baked by Donna hardly expressed our appreciation for the conscientious and faithful Bev.

Tuesday saw action against the Boutwell as the Yellow Subs wiped them out in all games. Notable girls street hockey players included: Debby Marsi, Linda Hardy, and Diane Coye and the sparkling Shari Reedy whose hat-trick certainly helped the game and the Wildwood's 8-2 win.

In girls softball action, the Subs again sunk the Boutwell with a devastating score of 13-0. Spearheading the win were Lisa Pellerin, Debby Marsi, Robin Leady, and Lori Hardy whose early game homers set the tone for the victory.

That afternoon the Subs invaded Silver Lake for a well deserved swim. Wednesday saw a day at the Wildwood with softball, street hockey and games highlighting the day. Thursday the Subs journeyed to Dunkan's Beach in N.H. This field trip was highly successful and the Subs returned tired, cooled, and broke to the Wildwood that afternoon.

The leaders would like to thank all parents who have helped and participated this summer, especially Mrs. Marsi, Sheila Woods, Mrs. Willwerth, Mrs. Ryan and Mrs. Reardon whose hilarity has so far been unmatched.

Shawheen
This week the Shawheen started off with a Super-Star day, in which the youngsters competed against each other for best times in six different events. The fastest two boy and girl Panthers in each age group were Tom Ross and Ed Theriault; Sandy Serrano and Julie Sanville; Poliootti and Ed Olshaw; Laura Cantwell and Chris Cantwell; Louis Theriault and Fred Olshaw; Michelle Forest and Kathy Madhoo.

Tuesday at the North the girls hockey team lost 4-3 despite a fine performance by Kathy Madden who put in all three goals. The softball team lost 14-13 in a very close game. Lisa Madden and Sharon Peters played well for their team. Both the boys hockey games were won. The softball game was lost.

Thursday the Shawheen spent a nice day at Dunkin Beach and on Friday spent the day at the Carnival in the Town Park.

Boutwell
Monday 40 Boutwell youngsters made candy apples after lunch. They were quickly eaten. Willy got his first coat of green paint Monday. Tuesday the Wildwood Submarines came to Boutwell. The Boutwell boys were victorious in both softball and hockey. The girls lost to the Wildwood in both events.

Kim Wandell scored the only two goals for Boutwell. The one on one tournament was held in the afternoon. The drama participants went to the North Intermediate to practice their skits. We were all very proud of them Wednesday night at the drama festival. Great job, Linda, Ed, Joby, Trevor, Toni, Sue, Patty, April Shelley, Linda, Terry, Sandra and all the mothers who helped with the costume.

On Thursday the youngsters showed off their swimming talents at Cheryl's house. They were all very well behaved as usual. Terry and Patty Dickerson, Linda Dodge, Tammy MacDonald, Suzanne Lawler and Joan, Nancy and Michael Wandell were selected to represent Boutwell at Wednesday's Fashion Show.

About 35 Hornets enjoyed Friday's carnival at the Town Park. Danny Wandell will tell you that the most popular game was the fish pond.

Woburn Street Playground spent the beginning of last week in practice for the Drama Festival at the North Intermediate. Everyone worked hard and congratulations should be offered to all for their fine efforts Wednesday night. Special note should also be taken of the ingenious costumes displayed by some of the Woburn

BOWLING

FREE bowling party Sunday

Brunswick Pleasure Lanes in North Reading will hold a pre-registration bowling party this Sunday, August 25 at 1:00 pm. The party is open to juniors and seniors in high schools from Wilmington, Reading, and North Reading and is a pre-registration date for those juniors and seniors and bowlers 16 years of age or over interested in starting a league.

The league is scheduled to open play on Sunday, September 8 at 1:00 pm and will operate every week at the same time. The number of bowlers per team will depend on the turnout of people wanting to partake in the league. Shirts, patches, trophies, parties, tournaments and a banquet are some of the added attractions.

Kill that Sunday afternoon boredom and come to Brunswick Pleasure Lanes and bowl the afternoon away. Come and enter by yourself, with a friend, or bring a team into the league.

Girls softball
Sat. Aug. 17...The Sluggers concluded a suspended game of July 30th whipping the 76'ers, 15-9 and then in a regular scheduled contest, Gloria Smith's club came from an early 13-5 deficit to whip

Nancy Hastings' Tiggers, 24-17. Gail Carter led the Sluggers with a homer and double, while Barb Monahan and Gail Smith chipped in with run producing doubles in the sixth inning.

Lynne Hastings had a homer for the Tiggers and Linda Hardy slammed a three run triple in an eight run second frame.

Boys softball:
Fri. Aug. 16...The Wedges ran their unbeaten streak to ten with a 10-5 triumph over Rocco's in the opening contest. In the other game, Jack-in-the-Box trounced Arms, 18-3.

Sat. Aug. 17...Silver Lake whipped Rocco's, 7-0 and Jack's tripped Joe App's, 7-3 in the opening two afternoon contests. In the final game of the day, Jack-in-the-Box outscored the league champion Wedges, 20-18 in a see-saw affair, which saw the lead change hands on four occasions.

include Colleen, Alice, Maureen, and Margaret Sullivan; Tricia Styles and Diane Sunnenburg; Gerald Sullivan, Greg Ashly, Mike Medeiros, Steve and David Schmitt; Alan and Eric Sunnenburg. Good luck to them.

Other events of the week will be the big playground party to end the program. Thanks to Eric Sunnenburg and Mary Jane Colbert for their performance winnings of $10 which will be used toward the party. Eric and Mary Jane won a prize at the Mardis Gras Drama Festival last week. To all a good-bye and have a good winter!

High School
The High School opened their next to last week of Recreation with A 7 C Drama on Monday, interplayground on Tuesday, a trip to the Woburn YMCA swimming pool on Wednesday and the carnival on Friday.

In interplayground competition the High moved into a tie for first by upsetting previously undefeated Woburn Street, 5-3, in the senior division. Losing 3-2 in the fifth inning the High rallied with two outs on four consecutive singles by Joey Simmons, Neil Wetzlar, Earl Paulson and John Souzy.

In the junior boys game the High dropped a 16-0 runaway. In senior street hockey the High Termites remained in a tie for first place by edging the Woburn Street, 5-2 on debut Wednesday evening. Models and Jean Robinson. Congratulations!

Glen Road
The Glen Road playground will be closing its doors to the children on Friday morning. Playground leaders Joan Bellissimo, Ron Colbert, and Ralph Peterson wish the children a happy and healthy school year. They would like to extend their appreciation to the parents for their cooperation throughout the summer in making Summer in the Sun at Glen Road a huge success.

Special thanks to Mr. Bakiwin and Mr. Blaisdell for the outstanding assistance they gave the leaders throughout the summer. Both custodians were always willing to give an extra hand to make some part of the program successful. To the volunteers, Jane Conlin and Mark Courney, thank you for your time and help throughout the summer.

During the last few days of playground Tiger, the huge white cotton covered bunny is being made ready for his big move to the North Intermediate for the Arts and Crafts exhibit. The models for the annual Fashion Show have been getting excited about their debut Wednesday evening. Models

Recs bow out of tourney

Both of the Wilmington entries in the Northwest Suburban Girls softball tourney lost their opening round encounters. Monday evening the seniors lost to Nassar Ford, 13-8 and on Tuesday the juniors succumbed to Burlington, 19-13.

Last night at Town Park three semi-final contests were played, two junior titles and one senior encounter. The championship finals of both divisions will take place at Town Park tomorrow evening beginning at six o'clock.

Mon. Aug. 19...Chelmsford (8-3) put together a 12 hit attack to whip St. Roberts (1-10), 24-1 in the opening contest of the junior set. Lisa Marston allowed only one hit, while striking out nine and walking five in a strong route going performance for the winners.

Personal tourney favorite, Methuen (12-0) ripped Andover (2-10), 20-3 behind the power hitting of Ellen Perry, who drove in three runs with a triple and homer in the first two frames when the All-Stars opened a commanding 14-0 lead. Gail Carter allowed only two hits and run in her six inning stint on the mound, while Susan Carmody mopped up giving up two runs in the final frame.

At Billerica, the Recs jumped out to a quick 6-0 lead but could not hold on in their initial tourney appearance against Nassar Ford.

Tue. Aug. 20...In their second meeting in four days, Wilmington and Burlington slugged it out once again, with the red and white coming out on top, defeating the Recs, 19-12. Cindy Feingold (4/8) and Barbara White (3/4) led a thirteen hit assault on two Rec hurlers. Nancy Moore slammed a three run homer for the Recs in the fifth to pace an eleven hit Wilmington attack. Laurie Hastings and Debby Bent shared the pitching for Wilmington, with Hastings picking up the loss, while Patty McQuinn struggled through six frames to gain the win with Regina Tumkins retiring the side in the seventh to preserve the triumph.

Diane Marciano struck out twelve Billerica players to lead the Woburn club to a convincing 13-4 triumph in the other quarter-final game. Carol Duffy led the victors with a two run homer, while teammates Diane Ober and Barbara Freeman chipped in with a pair of hits each. But the story was the pitching of Miss Marciano as Diane allowed only five scattered hits and walked eight.

Pete Emery to go to Acton

Peter Emery, math teacher in the West Intermediate School, and a man who is also assistant coach of the High School Hockey team, and coach of the Freshman Baseball team, has resigned, the School Committee was told last Thursday.

Mr. Emery has accepted a teaching and coaching position in the Acton area.

Chrysanthemums, carnations and daisies adorned the Wilmington United Methodist Church for the recent wedding of Kathleen Marie Lawrence of 221 Foster St., Lowell and Robert Huesgen, son of H.S. Huesgen of 4979 Chouteau Drive, North Kansas City, Missouri. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Willis Miller.

The bride was lovely in a full length gown of double knit flowered print featuring a high neckline and long sleeves trimmed with scalloped lace. Her elbow length veil fell from tiara of daisies. She carried a cascade of daisies matching her headpiece.

Mrs. Deborah Cone of Oakwood Rd., Wilmington, best friend of the bride served as matron of honor in a pink crepe full length gown. She carried a bouquet of carnations.

Alfred R. Bronck, best friend of the groom acted as best man.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at 221 Foster Street Lowell where James Estrella, nephew of the bride circulated the guest book.

Following a wedding trip to Missouri, New Orleans, Disney

World and Washington DC, the couple is now at home at 221 Foster St., Lowell.

The new Mrs. Huesgen attended Wilmington Schools and is a graduate of the North Shore Children's Hospital School of Practical Nursing and is currently employed at Choate Memorial Hospital in Woburn.

The bridegroom was educated in North Kansas City Schools and Northwest Missouri State University. He is a four year Vietnam Naval veteran, currently employed as manager of Kennedy's Food Store.

Swimming lessons at Silver Lake The response was tremendous

Last Friday was the last day of the summer's lessons at Silver Lake, sponsored by the Wilmington Recreation Department. The response, this year, was tremendous. Over 300 parents had brought children down to the beach, to be enrolled in the course.

One hundred and twenty-four children completed the course, in seven classes over a six week period. In the beginners course 27 children passed, and in the Achievement Test 57 children passed their final test.

Beginners can float on their bellies, float on their backs, swim 10 yards, and do a reasonable facsimile of the crawl for 20 yards.

Safety in the water was the most important thing. The youngsters were taught the "buddy in the water" system, and other safety skills, plus some important telephone numbers.

Passed Beginners
Michele DiGirolamo, Karen Graves, Paula Melanson, Francis Savatelli, Christopher Kane, Vilecia Summers, Sandra Sferazza, Richard Barry, Marsha Burns, Sandra Craig.

Karen Coville, Maureen Firth, Bruce Hill, Jennifer Hill, David Webster, Tommy Craig, Karen LaBoussiere, Keith O'Donoghue, Shawn O'Donoghue, Ralph Dalton, Sheila Kemison.

Achievement Cards

ERNE WOODSIDE HAS RETURNED HOME

Friends and neighbors of Ernest Woodside, of Aldrich Road, have welcomed him home, after surgery and a sojourn in the Winchester Hospital.

BEGINNERS LEARN TO SWIM. In front is Valerie Summers, and in back, I. to r.: Brian Norton, Maryanne Fredericks, Christopher Kane, Michele DiGirolamo and Eileen Las.

Tsongas Committee News

The Committee to elect Paul Tsongas is winding up its first district wide leaflet tour, for the oncoming November election. Over 250 volunteers have been working for the Fifth District candidate, and they took only ten days to distribute more than 120 thousand leaflets. In Wilmington the leaflet drive was headed by Area Coordinator Christine Gardner.

Volunteers who helped included Richard and Barbara Cogan, and their son Kevin. John Briand, and area youngsters.

There is to be an Easy Listening (not Rock and Roll) band concert tonight, at Rotary Park. The concert is scheduled to begin at 6 pm and Paul Tsongas is scheduled to make an appearance at 8 pm.

Conversation about Boutwell Street traffic

A few weeks ago there was a fatality, involving a girl, on Boutwell Street. The information regarding the accident has been, in the thinking of more than a few persons, insufficient.

John Ritchie, police traffic officer, reported to the Board of Selectmen last week, regarding Boutwell Street and the connecting lane through the Boutwell School and West Intermediate School yards.

The immediate subject of the discussion was the location to be made of a Traffic Safety officer, for school children.

Mr. Ritchie said that the traffic on Burlington Avenue was fifty times heavier than on Boutwell Street, and that, as a matter of fact, Boutwell Street was one of the safest streets in town - being classed "D" - "A" being the most dangerous.

The selectmen thought that there would be a Traffic Officer at the Boutwell School driveway. Mike Cairns said so. That meant, Ritchie said, an addition of one Traffic Officer.

Forest Street, Ritchie said, was much more dangerous.

Mr. Miceli asked if it were not true that a couple had "come in" the day before the fatality (presumably to complain, Ed.).

Ritchie said it was on the day of the accident - they were complaining about the detoured traffic from Shawheen Avenue. "I went up to the contractors and told them to knock it off - then I crossed some kids (on Boutwell Street) myself."

"The next day the sign was up again - they had no right to detour traffic." "That woman, however (who was involved in the accident, Ed.) was not detoured. She was taking a short cut."

Cairns: That accident, I was told, happened because a dog went out on the street. I was told that it had been recommended that there be a traffic guard at the corner of Boutwell and Aldrich Road.

Town Manager Sterling Morris: Do we close the gate (between the two schools, Ed) when schools are not in session?

Selection: No - when the school is open.

Cairns: 7:30 to 9 - open - right? Ritchie: That's when the problem is. The autos cut through from Shawheen Avenue from 7:30 to 9 - going over to Route 1.

Ritchie didn't think this was the proper thing to do.

Morris: Close it, except for buses and residents.

Cairns: No. Stop them on the other side (at Boutwell Street). Ask them "What are you doing coming through here?"

Mr. Boylen ventured an opinion that there should be a Traffic Officer at Forest Street. Ritchie said it wouldn't do any good. Selectman Gillis spoke of a notification, when Hoban (since deceased) stopped traffic on Forest Street - there was no problem then. The statements were - seemed to be incomplete.

Ritchie: It's a bad place.

Gillis: Yes.

AMY FARRELL TO WED CARL J. HANSEN III

Mrs. Dorothy M. Farrell, 8 Mass. Avenue, Wilmington has announced the engagement and coming marriage of her daughter, Amy, to Carl J. Hansen III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl J. Hansen Jr. of 49 Grafton Street, Arlington.

Miss Farrell is a graduate of Wilmington High School, class of 1973, and is employed as a secretary at Sweetheart Plastics.

Mr. Hansen is a student at Suffolk University, and will graduate next June with a degree in Accounting.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Chapter 766

Pre school registration starts next Tuesday

A voluntary Pre-School Registration is to be conducted in all Wilmington elementary schools, starting next Tuesday, in an effort to find any children in the three and four year old group who have possible learning problems.

The registration will run for four days, August 27 through August 30, from 9 am to 3 pm. It is being conducted for children who are not yet a part of the kindergarten system of the Wilmington Public Schools.

Parents are being requested to bring with them a copy of the child's birth certificate, as well as the most recent physical examination and any other medical information, when they register the child.

The pre-school registration is a part of the new program which is a part of Chapter 766, Acts of 1972. This Special Education law requires that the School Committee of each town make every effort to identify children between the ages of three and 21 years who have special needs for education.

Orientation Sessions After the registration is complete the Wilmington schools will have a free screening of registered children, between the ages of three and four, whose parents suspect that there are learning problems. This pre-school screening is to be held on two Saturdays, September 14 and September 21, from 9 am to 3 pm at the Woburn Street School, and at the Shawheen School.

Prior to the free screening sessions there will be two orientation sessions for the parents in the Herbert C. Barrows Auditorium of the High School. Both will be for the purpose of explaining the procedure of the screening process. Both will be on September 9, one from 4:15 to 5 pm, and the second from 7:30 to 8:15 pm. Parents may attend either session.
